Frequently Asked Questions

Q: What denomination are you affiliated with?

A: We're part of the Assemblies of God Fellowship. You can find our statement of truths here. www.ag.org under the "Beliefs" tab.

Q: Are you a Bible based Christian Church?

A: Absolutely. We take the Word of God very seriously and our Pastors have dedicated their lives to proper understanding and teaching of the Scripture.

Q: What do you mean by Family Church? What is a Family Church?

A: We're a church of Christian Believers who are dedicated to the development and values of the traditional family, but who also understand that the contemporary family is often just as important, if not more important, to the people in them. As a "Family Church" we're committed to bringing both the traditional and the contemporary family together as a Spiritual Family.

Q: What kind of programs do you run for kids and families?

A: We tend to stay away from "programs" in the traditional sense, instead focusing more on what meets the needs of the individuals attending our church. To accomplish that we spend more time focusing on the kids in the services than the average church does. That said, we do have a Jr/Sr High Youth Ministry and a bi-weekly Children's Ministry.

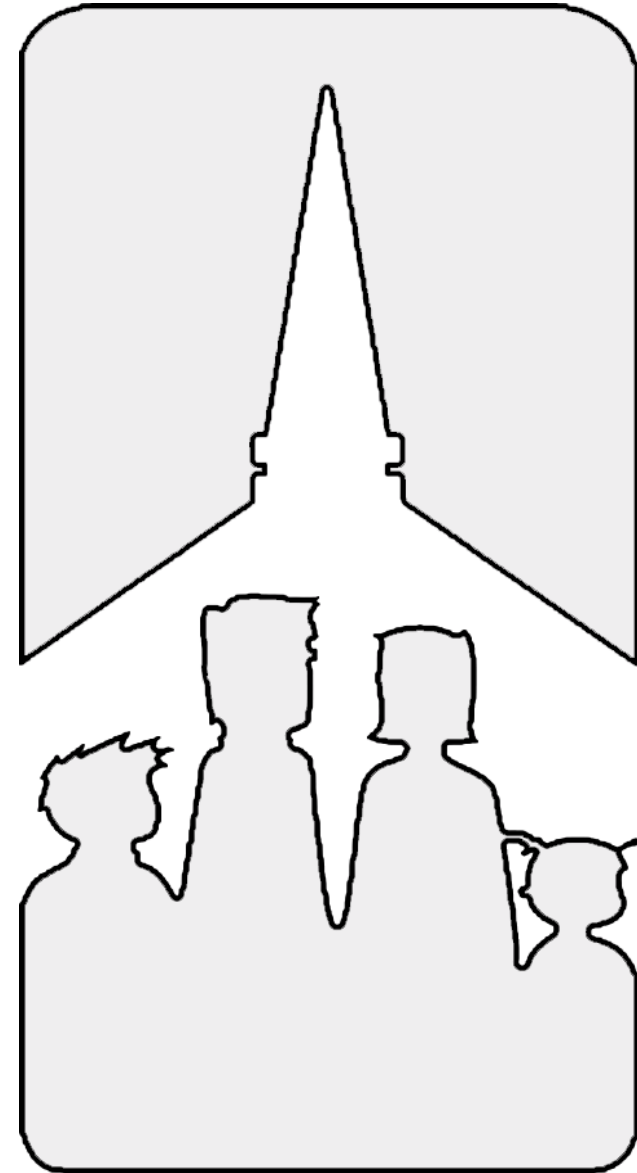

Q: Are the pastor's available for questions and counseling?

A: Absolutely! Connecting with people is our calling. The Leadership here believes in Bi-Vocational ministry, which means they all have other jobs, but we will happily make every effort to connect with someone who wants some of our time.

So there is this really underestimated aspect of sharing your faith that I feel must absolutely be brought before you today. It is without a doubt the one single most missed avenue by which Christian people can inform those around them of the greatness of God. Without this one thing all other things fall flat. Are you ready for it? Are you ready to learn this one weird trick? I'm going type it up here in just a minute, but first I am going to talk about a lots and lots of other things.

So ... If you've been on the internet, particularly on Facebook or other social media sites, you've probably seen things like the above. Maybe they had to do with weight loss or getting out of debt. Maybe they had to do with finding a hot date or the secret things hidden in movies. This junk is called 'click bait'. It intended to string you along so that you continue to open page after page. Each click wasting your time and generating revenue for someone else.

I've noticed a phenomenon among believers the past few decades. One that plays itself out in a very click bait like fashion. Our typical methodology when sharing our faith is to develop relationships with the people around us, all the while hinting at what we believe. We hope that by doing so we don't chase our new friend off so that some day they might ask us about what we've been hinting at.

The thing is ... 99% of people who open up a click bait site, close it with one or two clicks. They would rather move on not knowing than deal with the hassle of the presentation. Hmmm

I simply wonder how many of us are click bait Gospel presentations. The truth of the matter is that most people simply want the answer to the questions. As Christians be the answer, not just endless questions.
