Frequently Asked Questions

Q: What denomination are you affiliated with?

A: We're part of the Assemblies of God Fellowship. You can find our statement of truths here. www.ag.org under the "Beliefs" tab.

Q: Are you a Bible based Christian Church?

A: Absolutely. We take the Word of God very seriously and our Pastors have dedicated their lives to proper understanding and teaching of the Scripture.

Q: What do you mean by Family Church? What is a Family Church?

A: We're a church of Christian Believers who are dedicated to the development and values of the traditional family, but who also understand that the contemporary family is often just as important, if not more important, to the people in them. As a "Family Church" we're committed to bringing both the traditional and the contemporary family together as a Spiritual Family.

Q: What kind of programs do you run for kids and families?

A: We tend to stay away from "programs" in the traditional sense, instead focusing more on what meets the needs of the individuals attending our church. To accomplish that we spend more time focusing on the kids in the services than the average church does. That said, we do have a Jr/Sr High Youth Ministry and a bi-weekly Children's Ministry.

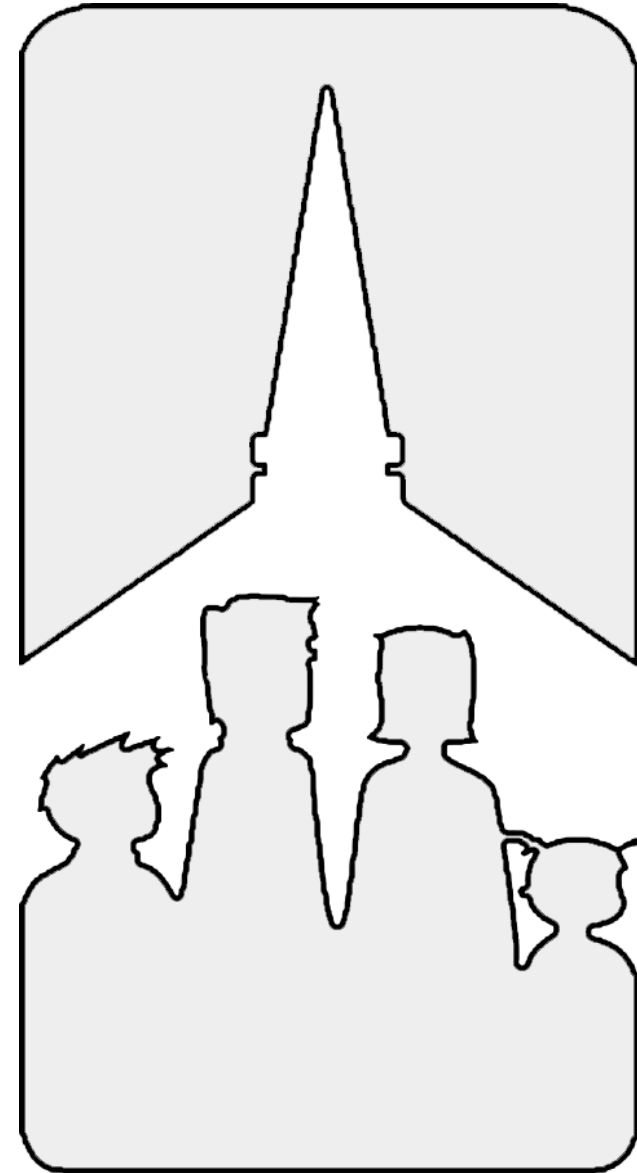

Q: Are the pastor's available for questions and counseling?

A: Absolutely! Connecting with people is our calling. The Leadership here believes in Bi-Vocational ministry, which means they all have other jobs, but we will happily make every effort to connect with someone who wants some of our time.

Talking about anything politically is a dangerous subject in our culture today. Opinions are so hotly divided that doing almost anything that feels politically adversarial can cost you a lot. Your job, your friendships, I've even heard of it ending marriages.

Politics of Jesus' day were a little bit different, and a lot the same. The common man just had to deal with what ever jokers were in charge. Rome sent them Governors and soldiers and pompous rich Jews dominated the Jewish Ruling Councils. This was a group of well educated fellers made up of Pharisees and Sadducees. In a lot of ways they had more power than the actual government.

You see Jerusalem was important to Rome only as a cross roads and stopping point for the edges of the Empire. Otherwise it really wasn't worth their time. So as long as the Jews were behaving then Rome didn't really care. Problem with that is... they rarely behaved for very long. It would seem keeping the peace in the Middle East is a problem dating back... well... always. Jesus' time was no different.

But this is where the Priests and Pharisees had real power. The people listened to them because they were "in charge" at least it made them feel better to say their own people were in charge rather than give that to Rome. And they liked being in charge. Now, I don't know if you've ever noticed this before, but people who like being in charge of something rarely give up that power.

So along comes Jesus, who just by His very nature draws the people away from the Pharisees and Sadducees. He talks about real power and authority. He takes care of the people. He doesn't worry about Rome. He just helps people live a better life and the people flock to him by the thousands. All that makes me wonder about something. How involved would Jesus be in today's politics? The answer is, He wouldn't be. Give to Caesar that which is Caesars' I suppose. But the point is the Jesus focused on people not politics. You should too.
